Order No.

Tomorrow morning at day break, the troops under the command of Col. Poole, will resume the march to Fort Cobb, for the purpose of being paid off and discharged.

During the march and after the troops have encamped in the neighborhood of Fort Cobb, the Col. commanding expects every volunteer to be orderly & faithful in the discharge of his duty. Upon the conduct of the troops, while under the eye of the Col. commanding, the treatment they are to receive will much depend on the manner they are to receive it.

The Col. commanding need not inform the Volunteers that every injury done to private property is not only against orders, but is unworthy of a patriotic soldier, and should be severely punished.

By order of Col. Poole.
